

Calling all Utah high school graphic designers! We want you to design the 2014 Information Technology summer conference graphics.

The Information Technology Education specialist, at the Utah State Office of Education will be planning their 2014 summer conference for Utah educators. The organizers of this conference invite YOU (Utah high school students) to design the graphic for the conference program materials. The graphic will be printed on the program cover, welcome posters, thank you cards, and more. This is a wonderful opportunity to showcase your talent and creativity as you design a “unique graphic” for the conference. Each entry will be judged by the state committee for Information Technology Education. One entry will be selected and the winner will receive a one year subscription to the full Adobe Creative Cloud. This prize was generously donated by Adobe and has a retail value of $600.00. The winner will be announced by March 1, 2014.

The student must be willing to sign a media release and the work becomes the property of the Utah State Office of Education to be used in any manner. Designs must consist of completely original artwork, absolutely NO clip-art or stock illustrations, and NO copyrighted material. Any typography must be licensed for free commercial use. Designs must be scalable in both large and small formats.
